Greenford Man Killed In Auto-Bus Crash Near Van Wert

Three Offices Will Register Youth July 1

Salem, Columbiana, East Rochester Points
Designated For Enrollment of New
21-Year-Olds

The Salem draft board today established three places of registration for the second "R-Day" July 1 when the boys who have reached the age of 21 since Oct. 16, 1940, will enroll under the selective service program.

An area covering Salem, Perry, Butler, Knox, West, Fairfield and Hanover townships is served by the local draft board and the youths may present themselves for registration in one of these designated places:

1. Office of the local draft board in the Memorial building, E. State st., Salem.

2. Office of Atty. W. O. Wallace, second floor of Union bank building, S. Main st., Columbiana.

3. Residence of Charles E. Marietta on East Rochester-North Georgetown road.

The draft board headquarters will serve as the central registration office, while boys in the eastern townships will register at Atty. Wallace's office, and those living in the western part of the territory will go to the home of Charles Marietta. Wallace is a member of the Salem draft board. Marietta offered his services.

The places of registration will be open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. on July 1.

All registrars of the local board will be empowered to register only persons residing within its area and properly under its jurisdiction. It was explained today, excepting registrants who are non-residents of the county or state.

Lisbon area drafters may register either at the Firestone bank draft headquarters, the American Legion hall in East Palestine, the fire station in Wellsville or the Salsville Motor Co. garage in Salsville.

East Liverpool draft registrations will be taken at the East Liverpool city hall and the mayor's office at Rogers village.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR INDUCT OFFICERS

Robert Hackett of Akron, Knights Templar grand senior warden, officiated when Salem commandery No. 42, Knights Templar, installed officers at a public ceremony Tuesday night in the Masonic temple. One hundred persons attended.

The officers are: Commander, Albert P. Morris; generalissimo, Emanuel Cox; captain general, Frank J. Eckstein; senior warden, S. Z. Lower; recorder, Arthur Schropp; prelate, George A. Hempstead; treasurer, James H. Campbell; standard bearer, Earl Wang; sword bearer, George P. Loder; warden, Myron Kelly; trustee, Charles Werner.

A program of musical selections and exemplification of ritualistic work marked the ceremonies.

Leningrad, Second Russian City, One of Nazis' Goals

Top—View of Leningrad, second largest city of Russia, and an important seaport. One German army thrust is headed toward Leningrad, formerly known as Petrograd.

Below—This map was prepared to show the vast size of the Soviet union in comparison with the United States. In area the largest country in the world, the U. S. S. R. comprises one-sixth of the earth's surface or 8,819,791 square miles. Initialed areas on the map indicate various republics included in the Russian Soviet Socialist Federated Republic (Soviet Russia proper). Estimated population of the Soviet union in 1940 was 192,695,710.

ALUMINUM NEEDED, LA GUARDIA'S PLEA

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia got going on his first assignment to duty as civilian defense coordinator today with a characteristically vigorous and unexpected call for a nation-wide collection of scrap aluminum.

Without bothering to prepare an advance copy of his address, the New York executive broadcast a plea last night to citizens for contributions of everything from old pots and pans to washing machines and golf clubs, and set a goal of 20,000,000 pounds—enough aluminum, he said, to provide for 2,000 fighter planes.

State, county and city officials, aided by civic, patriotic, and youth organizations, will head up the campaign. Contributions will be called in on July 21.

Report On Annual Quota Convention

Highlights of the 1940 international convention of Quota clubs were given by Misses Nora Greenawalt, Eva Simpson and Irene Slutz, who attended the convention, at a dinner-meeting of the Salem Quotarians last night at the Memorial building.

The three members returned yesterday afternoon from Lake Placid, N. Y., where the convention was in session from Thursday to Saturday evening. Names of convention speakers and events were written on cards which marked places of the local members at their dinner. Delegates reported on the card listings as they were read by the members.

Stress Trade Opportunities

Approximately 500 Quotarians from the United States and Canada attended the convention, at which the keynote speech, "Opportunities for Cooperation Between the Americas," was given by Ed. Tomlinson, New York City, radio commentator.

Tomlinson, who has spent many years in South America, pointed out that many products which the U. S. is buying from distant countries could be obtained from South

$1,984 REPORTED IN U.S.O. CAMPAIGN

Incomplete reports from the United States defense fund campaign today showed that Salem contributions for the United Service Organization have reached $1,984.59.

In making this report following the one-day solicitation on Tuesday, Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, secretary of the committee, announced that several team reports are incomplete and that a few of the larger contributions, already pledged, have not been received.

The only report from townships in the northern part of the county, which are co-operating with the Salem committee, came from J. H. Sinclair of Hanover.

As chairman of Knox, Butler, Hanover and West townships, Sinclair today reported contributions from these districts totaling $416.50, slightly over their quota of $400.

The goal is $3,000 and of this amount it is expected that Salem alone will raise about $2,500.

Other districts are expected to report within the next day or two, when Salem's campaign will be practically completed.

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 25.—Joseph Morbio, high school athletic director and football coach, was appointed general supervisor of playgrounds here today. He will have 25 assistants.

Seven Nurses Are Graduated; Hear Talk By Dr. Frank Slutz

"The most important thing about a diploma is what is written between the lines," Dr. Frank D. Slutz of Dayton told graduates of the Salem City Hospital Nursing school in commencement exercises at the Methodist church last night, when he spoke on "Between the Lines of a Diploma."

Dr. Slutz, whose work as an educator and teacher began with a position as elementary school principal and has progressed through high school, private school, college and university professorships, has been engaged in consultation and guidance work since 1932.

A large audience heard the speaker and enjoyed the music and other features of the commencement program, attending afterward a reception for the class in the church parlor.

CITY LACKS FUNDS TO PAY PATROLMAN

Special Appropriation Is Needed To Pay Extra Policeman

Phillips A. "Dusty" Rhodes may go unrewarded for his services as a special policeman unless city council appropriates funds for the employment of an extra officer.

City Auditor Karl Webster pointed out today that the city ordinance covering municipal employees calls for the employment of only five policemen and a chief, with no provisions for vacation help. He said he had no fund from which to pay Rhodes.

Rhodes was hired a week ago by Safety Director J. T. Rafferty to serve on the police department during the vacations of the regular patrolmen.

For several weeks now the scouts have been studying a manual of instructions, distributed by the new county scout executive, Joseph Moran. During the three-day event the scouts will compete as patrol units in various camping and scoutcraft contests. Judging will be on a point basis and banner awards will be made.

A campfire program will be held Friday evening when various entertainment items are scheduled. The scouts will attend church Sunday morning.

Boys Cover 40 Miles In Day; At Bucyrus

Kenneth Taylor and Ted Lawton, local youths who are out to tour the west on horseback, were in Bucyrus today after a 40 mile ride yesterday from Ashland. While in Bucyrus the young horsemen hope to "hitch" a ride out west on a horse truck. Here's their latest card:

"Dear Folks:
We got started from Ashland about 6 o'clock (A. M.) and by noon we had come more than half way to Bucyrus.

"At Shelby we talked to a man who had shipped many carloads of horses from the west. He told us of a short cut to Bucyrus.

"We are staying all night at a farm house just this side of Bucyrus. We rode about 40 miles today."

Goshen Grangers to Hear Talk by Ora E. Anderson

Ora E. Anderson, editor of Farm and Dairy, will give a talk Friday evening during the lecture hour of Goshen grange.

After the program the members whose birthdays occur in April, May and June, will be guests at a birthday party.

A committee named at the last meeting will report on a proposed exhibit at the Canfield fair.

WIFE IS INJURED,
CHILDREN UNHURT

Victim, Former Youngstown Resident, Taught at Youngstown East

C. B. Sheller, 47, residing just south of Greenford, was killed this morning in an automobile-bus collision at Van Wert, O., according to an Associated Press dispatch. The crash occurred at a downtown street intersection.

Mr. Sheller, a teacher in Youngstown East High school, died instantly, it was learned.

His wife was injured, but three children in their car escaped unhurt. Twenty-one passengers and the driver of the bus were shaken up.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheller were thrown from their automobile by the impact. Mrs. Sheller suffered a collarbone fracture and a leg injury.

Their daughter, Lola Ann, and two friends of the girl, Mary Rose Zimmerman, and Edith Foley, escaped with bruises.

The five were enroute to Owens, Mich., for a camping trip.

J. F. Stocker of Cario, O., was driving the inter-state bus.

The Shellers formerly lived in Youngstown. He continued to teach school there after they built a home on the Charlton farm at Greenford.

SCOUTS READY FOR ANNUAL CAMPOREE

Nine Salem Troops Will Take Part In Weekend Program

Members of nine Salem Boy Scout patrols will join approximately 200 other scouts this weekend in the annual Columbiana County Boy Scout camporee at the McKinley reservation near Lisbon.

The camporee, opening Friday afternoon, will continue through Sunday.

Besides the scouts themselves there will be between 40 and 50 county scout leaders at the outdoor rally. Each troop is arranging for its own transportation to the camp where the scouts will sleep in pup tents.

For several weeks now the scouts have been studying a manual of instructions, distributed by the new county scout executive, Joseph Moran. During the three-day event the scouts will compete as patrol units in various camping and scoutcraft contests. Judging will be on a point basis and banner awards will be made.

A campfire program will be held Friday evening when various entertainment items are scheduled. The scouts will attend church Sunday morning.

The President emphasized that the Soviet had not yet made any request for help. He intended, however, that since the United States also opposes Nazi aggression, this country was prepared to provide Russia with everything the nation's productive capacity can supply after meeting prior defense and lease-lend commitments.

The President's pledge was immediately implemented in one field when the treasury department ordered the release of department-ordered $50,000,000 and $100,000,000 in Russian assets here which were "frozen" on June 14 along with the holdings of Germany, Italy and other continental European nations.

Mr. Roosevelt likewise indicated that henceforth the Soviet would have no difficulty in obtaining export licenses for all war munitions and supplies which can be spared.

HOMEWORTH DRIVER IS FINED BY MAYOR

Charles Larkin of R. D. 1, Homeworth, arrested by the state highway patrol on a charge of reckless driving, was fined $10 and costs yesterday by Mayor Norman Phillips.

Leroy Isherwood of Landsdowne, Pa., charged with driving an over-weight truck, was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Arthur Myers at Columbiana.

Walter Hoover of R. D. 2, Alliance, a truck driver arrested by the patrol on a charge of speeding, drew a fine of $10 and costs when taken before Mayor George Wilson at Canfield.

Berlin Claims "Great Successes Are To Be Expected"; Reports Destruction of Soviet Tanks, Rails and Cars

(By The Associated Press.)

Finland was reported to have joined Germany in the war against Russia today after Soviet planes raided Helsinki and southern Finland in reply to German raids that were reported to have left Leningrad in flames.

An authorized German spokesman in Berlin said Finland had formally declared war and that fighting was going on in full force.

Many Finnish civilians were reported killed and the City of Lappeenranta set afire.

Before the Finnish declaration was announced in Berlin, Helsinki made a sharp protest to Russia against what it called the unprovoked attack and said the Soviet assertion that German troops had attacked Russia through northern Finland was a deliberate lie.

Pravda, the Communist party organ, warned that "the world will be amazed by the forces which the Soviet people in its indignation and patriotic wrath" would hurl against Germany.

MOSCOW, June 25.—Trailing blow for blow with the Luftwaffe, the Red air fleet reported today it had left Warsaw and Constanta in flames, raided Danzig and East Prussia, and destroyed 381 German planes against a three-day loss of 374 of its own aircraft.

Along the troop-banked battlefield, a Soviet communique declared, the Red Army was fighting fiercely to check Nazi drives into the Baltic states and old northeast Poland, and was holding German and Rumanian forces to a standstill on the banks of the Prut river.

The headlong clash of the two largest armies in Europe was reported heavy in casualties and destruction, with big guns in action and powerful motorized and mechanized divisions following up the first shock of advance units.

HELP FOR RUSSIA PROMISED BY U. S.

Nation Ready To Aid Any Enemy of Aggression
Roosevelt Says

WASHINGTON, June 25.—In line with President Roosevelt's pledge of all possible assistance to the Red army, defense officials today instituted a quick survey to determine what immediate and effective aid could be provided for Soviet Russia.

The expectation was that Soviet overtures for help would not be long in materializing after Mr. Roosevelt's voluntary statement at his press conference yesterday, promising whatever aid that could be given.

The President emphasized that the Soviet had not yet made any request for help. He intended, however, that since the United States also opposes Nazi aggression, this country was prepared to provide Russia with everything the nation's productive capacity can supply after meeting prior defense and lease-lend commitments.

The President's pledge was immediately implemented in one field when the treasury department ordered the release of department-ordered $50,000,000 and $100,000,000 in Russian assets here which were "frozen" on June 14 along with the holdings of Germany, Italy and other continental European nations.

NEW ROTARY HEADS TAKE JOBS TUESDAY

T. E. Miller, Ohio Edison Co. manager, will succeed C. D. Gow as president of the Rotary club when new officers take over their duties at the regular meeting next Tuesday.

The Rotary year concluded with yesterday's meeting which featured a talk by S. N. Van Blaricom on "Soil Erosion."

Other officers to be installed next Tuesday include Floyd W. McKee, vice president; C. D. Gow, secretary, and F. J. Emeny, treasurer.

A report is expected to be given by Charles H. Wolfe, who was the club's delegate to the Rotary international convention at Denver last week.

Sebring Doubles Goal In U. S. O. Fund Campaign

ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE

WHILE this comment on the biggest news of the weekend was still only a hop, skip and a jump from its starting point, a kibitzer looked it over and said, "I'm glad I don't have to figure out what Russia and Germany are doing."

The remark had a restraining influence. This editorial isn't an attempt to figure out what Russia and Germany are doing. The people in Washington and London—and in Berlin, Rome, Moscow, and Tokyo—don't know, so how can we?

Russia, a dictatorship, is attacked by another dictatorship, Germany, because Germany's dictator thought Russia's dictator was getting ready to put a knife in his back.

That is an understandable misgiving on the part of any dictator, but in this particular case it is hard to understand what would have happened to make Hitler so afraid of Joe Stalin.

One must pay some attention to the possibility that Hitler and Stalin are putting on an act, but not too much. If Germany's declaration of war is the real thing, then the odds against Nazi success have lengthened tremendously. That is the important possibility.

It is why the British, who distrust Russia but fear Germany, are happy. Their chance of survival has been improved at least 50 per cent on the face of things. They are wasting no time advising the United States to chum up with Russia as a matter of expediency, too. Energetic action now might shorten the war by a matter of years.

It won't be easy for Americans to do this, and if a possible reason for the war had to be given, this would be as likely as any. Hitler and his planners may be counting on American dislike of Communism to turn United States opinion against aid to Britain. It sounds far-fetched, but is at least 50 times more logical than the bogus reasons given by Hitler in his official handout.

AMERICANS have felt all along that sooner or later the looters and racketeers trying to re-establish despotism would be at each other's throats. They thought the Germans would string along with the Russians, however, until they could take over the latter painlessly, the way they did the job in Italy.

Naturally, Americans feel no sympathy for Stalin and his circle, who apparently have come to the end of their rope. Russia probably is going to reap the whirlwind of its stupid political leadership. But at the same time it is probable that Germany is in for some tough consequences, too.

In the World war, Russia was a pushover for Germany's better equipped, better trained, better managed troops. But Russia takes a lot of pushing over. Germany succeeded in toppling the czarist regime and precipitating revolution, but all the time this was happening, its war effort against the more formidable enemy on the western front was being diminished in direct ratio. But for Russia, Germany probably would have won World War I.

S O, not knowing what it's all about and resisting the temptation to guess, we merely hope for the best, which is the only way to keep from getting punch-drunk in a world seemingly bent on plunging to destruction. We have a hunch that Hitler, who has been too smart for any one man so far, finally has outsmarted himself, like all the would-be conquerors who have preceded him. We don't claim to know how, but we think the guy has started something he can't finish.

That may be small solace in the end, because things may get so tough it won't be any fun to gloat, the way it was during all those years while Wilhelm sawed wood at Doorn. A lot of us even turned sentimental and sighed, "Oh, the poor unhappy darlings!" meaning the Prussian militarists who never for a moment quit planning for the great day when they'd try a second time to put their feet on somebody's neck. But that's the chance people take by letting themselves behave like human beings.

While it's working itself out, everybody is looking forward, of course, to some comic relief by the American Communists. There was a cartoon the other day showing one waiting for Stalin to call him on the phone to tell him whether to be for or against the Nazis. The Commies have completed the circle now and any day may be expected to come out for lower wages and a longer working day in the United States to speed up defense production.

Most Americans will keep their fingers crossed and continue to believe that everything's going to come out all right in the wash. They're confused and they don't trust anybody any more—not even Hitler when he declares war, incidentally—but ultimately the sun will come through again and the clouds will have a silver lining. If this sounds too optimistic, it must be remembered that optimism is the dominant note of the occasion. Germany is going to lick Russia, Russia is going to lick Germany, Great Britain is going to handle them both, and the United States is going to keep peace and order forever afterward. That's what they say.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, June 26.

A PARTICULARLY lively day, with much stirring of a thrilling and surprising character materializing in both the private and business life. There should be quite unforeseen profit as well as pleasure, with all affairs moving under unusually high pressure and constructively. However this tension if carried to excess may result in some features born of enmity or jealousy. But generally there is stability, with increased possessions and finances, enhanced popularity in business as well as social prestige.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of much initiative and tension, with much enterprise and energy resulting in unexpected profits and productiveness. Increased real possessions as well as finance are to be the reward for aggressive and well-directed attack, but this should not be carried to excess as there are hints of jealousy and enmity. Be guided by the intuitions and aspirations as well as logic, and this warming, expanding and happy influence will pervade the social, romantic and domestic life also.

A child born on this day while being temperamental, aggressive and high powered in action may also have deep and constructive understanding of its affairs, which should thrive and bring riches as well as pleasure in life.

SEEK OUT SUBVERSIVES

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Federal Bureau of Investigation will be handed $100,000 for a special anti-American inquiry under the justice department appropriation bill now before President Roosevelt.

Contending that subversive organizations were represented among government workers, Rep. Robert Jones (R., Ohio) won congressional approval of an amendment appropriating the funds for the investigation.

The amendment stipulates specifically that the amount must be used for investigation of federal employees belonging to subversive organizations. The Jones proposal precipitated a sharp controversy in congress and was accepted only after the bill was referred to a conference committee.

He contended that the appropriation was needed to enable the F. B. I. to ascertain the identity of persons on the federal payroll who opposed the American form of government.

"This is not a spy-hunt," said Jones. "It is intended to protect innocent persons, including those induced to join Communist-front organizations without knowing their real purpose."

Jones told the house he was convinced that subversive elements were on the government payroll. Present law, Jones said, provides merely that if a person denies by affidavit that he is an enemy of the American system he is absolved and kept on the payroll.

FOR REMOVAL OF FRECKLES

Use of Bleaches Discussed by Clendening

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Before long the question which supercedes questions of state and international geography will be coming to many: "How to prevent freckles?"

There is a kind of psychological aspect to freckles; sometimes they are cute, and sometimes they are a curse. Under the age of six they are cute. Later they are likely to be objectionable.

Everything about freckles is easy to explain except why they exist. The dermatologist tells us they are tiny blotches of tan. They are just like ordinary sun tan or tanning of the skin in other people, but in freckles the red heads the pigment spots turn especially dark and stand out and are separated from the rest of the skin by white areas or oceans of white.

Removing Freckles
The dermatologist also tells us that freckles usually stay with a person for a long time, sometimes permanently. What the dermatologist does not tell us is why some people should freckle and some people should tan. All we know is that the blondes and red heads seem to have a dearth of spots instead of being evenly distributed.

Getting rid of freckles is also not quite as easy as it sounds. The pigment lies deep in the skin and on the surface. The most we can do is to bleach or perhaps remove the upper layer of the skin. Be careful that you do not use a preparation which contains mercury. Mercury is effective but dangerous.

Ordinary hydrogen peroxide is helpful when it is full strength and fresh. It works through the action of oxygen as a bleaching agent.

Lemon juice is also good. The following additional formulae may be used:

Formula No. 1 (Cream)
Peroxide of hydrogen 24 parts

PASSING THE BUCK

Editor, The News:

In the appointment of "Dusty" Rhodes as extra policeman, it appears the Safety Director overlooked the "paid vacation for city policemen" provision whereby Councilman Zimmerman insisted that this additional clause be written in: "without additional cost to the city." So far as I know, that is still in effect.

While I have no objection to Mr. Rhodes, I believe that extra officers are supposed to be picked from the eligible list certified by the Civil Service commission. I am not so sure that our police ordinance does not call for only one chief and four regular officers, thus making Todd still an extra officer. If ordinances are unfair, they should be changed.

In answer to Mayor Phillips' query as to where he is going to hire a traffic officer for 50 cents an hour, I would say, the same place he found the men to more than double the personnel of service and water departments after he became mayor. Also, that as police are prohibited from cracking down on Salem rackets, they can well afford to readjust the police department to provide, not one, but two or three men to handle State st. traffic those few hours, and not even require the 25 bucks that council approved of, although I believe council did not limit the administration to $25, but Councilman Rheutan said it would cost possibly $25 for the summer.

Just who is "passing the buck?" The excess fire truck money would pay the extra for the entire summer.

GEORGE BRICKER.

Commissioner Dies

HAMILTON, June 24.—Harry J. Koehler, 51, since 1936 a member of the Ohio State Racing commission, died unexpectedly in his home today of a heart ailment.

Koehler, a former city solicitor and one-time mayor of Hamilton, was a law partner of Gregory Holbrook, third district congressman and was recognized widely as an authority on municipal law.

Named to the state racing commission in 1936, he was appointed last year to his second four-year term.

Councilman Convicted

YOUNGSTOWN, June 24.—The seventh district court of appeals affirmed City Councilman John J. Delbene's conviction on a charge of soliciting a $7,500 bribe in connection with a low cost housing proposal here last summer, and this sentence, imposed by Judge Erskine Maiden Jr., now is effective. Delbene must vacate his council seat, forfeit his right of franchise and live under probation five years. He was convicted of soliciting money to influence fellow councilmen to vote for the project, which ultimately was defeated.

Klan Denies Charges

SPARTANBURG, S. C.—Ben Adams, Grand Dragon of Ku Klux Klan in South Carolina, terms "false, vicious and contemptible charges" a statement by Gov. Burnett R. Maybank that he had been advised the Klan "is now supported by the German government."

"THE GORGON'S MASK"

by Van Wyck Mason

CHAPTER NINETEEN

"What were you looking at so hard?" North asked Kilgour.

"That Charley boy in the red sash and the linen coat over yonder." He pointed to the head waiter who had appeared between Von Rentner and the two merchant officers.

The American agent studied the "Charley boy" as Kilgour continued. "Well, he is someone I know, or used to know. That, my good friend, is Lau Yee Foo. Had some er-dealings with the blighter back in Hongkong. And," he added grimly, "be ready for trouble—he won't be over-glad to see me."

"Why?"

"He knows I know plenty of people who would give a tidy bit to know where he is. Come on, maybe I can make him useful."

All right—but duck trouble if you can."

Wavering on their feet, the two deserted their table and after dodging among the dancers, sought that corner of the dance hall where Lau Yee Foo, very suave and alert, stood preening himself before the glass of a chewing-gum machine.

"Pehea oe, Lau Yee?" gently murmured Kilgour.

If a bayonet had jabbed the head waiter he could not have spun about more swiftly.

"Name not Lau Yee," the Chinese almost spat, his jet eyes glittering dangerously. But when he beheld the Englishman's bland expression, his paramechan-like features relaxed. "Oh, Misser Inspector Fawning, the head waiter bowed low. 'In what humble way can a worm like Lau Yee be of service?'"

"Look out!" North snapped, but the Englishman needed no warning. His hand had shot out and imprisoned the scowling Chinaman left, gripping the ivory handle of a knife outlined beneath the red silk sash.

"That will do, Lau Yee," Kilgour rapped in tones that were low but effective.

The head waiter hesitated, then glared up into Kilgour's steady blue eyes. "No tell Plomiss?"

"I promise. But I must have a talk with you."

"You no make trouble for me, sure?" Lau Yee Foo wavered.

"Word of an Englishman," Kilgour said, with that firm arrogance which has won his nation a third of the world. "Now then, my lad, let's be getting out of this hall. This is my friend, Mr. Dent."

"Please to follow—"

Back through that selfsame door which had given up Baron von Rentner and his curious retinue, Lau Yee Foo conducted the two alert, suspicious white men.

"Coming up in the world, I see," Kilgour remarked as he followed the narrow white-clad back down a corridor only half lit by a small Japanese lantern.

"Yes, Honored Sir, my manager, part owner; my good China boy now and business man, too."

"You amaze me," was Kilgour's only comment, for Lau Yee Foo had suddenly halted before the entrance of a small room.

In the apartment there were four chairs and an elaborate teakwood table richly inlaid with mother-of-pearl. On this table several cigarette stumps still smoldered upon a broad brass tray. There was a bright overhead light.

In silence Lau Yee Foo stood waiting while both intelligence men studied the chamber before seating themselves.

Kilgour said crisply, "You may sit down, Lau Yee."

The three men sat in silence for many seconds.... then the Chinese suddenly made a bow and suggested in abruptly flawless English: "Will the Honorable and Astute Inspector be good enough to tell this insignificant person what it is he desires?"

"Tell me," Kilgour began, "just what you know about a very pretty, blonde Russian girl who used to come here."

Lau Yee Foo's limpid black eyes wavered not at all. "The little friend of Mr. Kanamura?"

Though his features remained impassive, North's heart bounded. Feverishly, he hoped that Kilgour would be quick enough to deny this first identification in the hope of other useful attempts. His respect for the Englishman rose like a skyscraper's elevator when Bruce shook his sun-scoured head.

"Kanamura?" said he vaguely.

Lau Yee Foo was evidently very anxious to please. "Does the Most Honorable Inspector by any chance refer to a Russian girl who on occasion has come here with a very beautiful lady and Baron von Rentner?"

"Von Rentner? Yes, that's the girl. When was she last here?"

Lau Yee Foo's features were blank as he replied: "This afternoon past she came in at five o'clock. This worthless person thought she was going to meet Mr. Kanamura—as that is the usual time of their meeting. But the Japanese—may dogs defile the grave of his ancestors—did not come; instead came one who is called Captain Karen."

North had a premonition which was promptly justified when Kilgour inquired, "He was the blond fellow with the mustache and the bruised head who just left here?"

The oil on Lau Yee Foo's blue-black hair glistened as he humbly inclined his head. "Yes, Honorable Sir."

"She seem glad to see him?"

"That would be hard to say, Honorable Sir, but my worthless impression is that she was not."

"What did they talk about?"

"That, Most Worthy Inspector, I do not know," Lau Yee declared earnestly, "since they talked only a little in some language I could not understand."

"You understood absolutely nothing?"

"Once I thought I heard the word 'Kaanapal,' though I cannot be sure."

"Kaanapal?" murmured the American intelligence officer, and raised interrogative eyebrows.

"Kaanapal, Sir, is a bay on the island of Maui."

"How long has the German been coming here?" North could have hugged Kilgour for his skillful ambiguity.

"The German, Honorable Sir?"

Lau Yee Foo was very suave. "If you refer to Captain Karen, I think he is a Russian."

Kilgour shook his head. "No, I meant Baron von Rentner; how long has he been coming to the Floating Lily?"

Again the Chinese retired into some mental corner to reflect before replying, "I do not recall exactly, but I think it was early last April that the German came here with a very beautiful lady."

"Her name?"

"This least of all creatures does not know it, Honorable Inspector. The German said only that he had some private business to transact and that he wished the use of a room in this place where he would not be disturbed."

"What was the name of the Russian girl who went out with Captain Karen?"

"This unworthy person heard it only once," Lau Yee Foo apologized, and blinked owl-like in the strong overhead light, "but he thinks it was Teodora—Teodora Mazro. She never worked here—only came few times to be with the others and that Japanese—may dragons tear up all his accursed race!"

"Was there ever," North spoke for the first time, "a big American with her? A man with gray hair, pale brown eyes, and a big jaw like that?"

He thrust his own jaw far out in reproduction of Abner Polk's prognathous one.

Lau Yee Foo promptly shook his narrow head. "No, Most Revered Sir, not that my faulty perceptions have observed. I have just told Mr. Kilgour everything I know about the girl Teodora."

"Then she was with this Captain Karen late yesterday afternoon? And she left the Floating Lily in his company?"

"Your words are the substance and the reflection of the truth, Honored Sir."

"Thank you," North felt immeasurably encouraged; then he added casually, "One thing more—I ran across this ideograph the other day. Could you tell me just what this means?"

The Chinaman's fragile-looking fingers delicately revolved the paper. "Your Honor gave it to me upside down," he smiled; then his face tightened when his heavy-lidded eyes studied the symbol North had first beheld scratched on Teodora's neck.

"Honorable Sir," said the Chinaman, "that is a most unpleasant word."

"Unpleasant?"

"Yes. The character is for the Chinese words 'tan' and 'zu'; though the drawing is somewhat imperfect," he added, and his jet eyes lingered on North's questioning gray ones. "It is unmistakable, however, that his character is intended to be 'tan' and 'zu'—a traitorous spy."

"Oh."

"You see, Honorable Sir," the Chinese explained deferentially, "there are three words roughly similar: 'tan'—fang-ti, which indicates a superior grade of spy—possibly a detective."

North felt, rather than saw, Kilgour's mocking smile, for all his attention was trained on Lau Yee Foo's ivory-limbed face.

"Then there is 'tan' ma, which is complimentary, but not as complimentary as 'tan' zu."

"Thank you, Lau Yee. I am much obliged."

The Chinese jerked another brief bow.

"You have helped us a great deal," Kilgour smiled and reached for his panama.

"And if you should choose to help us still more, you will be well paid," North added as he arose. "Here's a telephone number; if Captain Karen comes in again call it at once and ask for Mr. Dent, or," he fixed on the Chinaman a lingering regard—"if you should happen to find him sooner—"

That Lau Yee Foo was an essentially practical person was proved as he bent his glossy head ever so deprecatingly and murmured, "And at what trifling sum does this Mountain of Generosity value said information?"

"At least a thousand dollars—American, not Mex—perhaps much more."

It is proverbial that the Chinese are masters of their emotions; Lau Yee Foo was that as he said, "This Person of No Intelligence ventures that some information may be forthcoming before long."

"This way, gentlemen," murmured Lau Yee Foo and set off down the corridor.

North objected presently. "Hold on, this isn't the way—Where d'you think you are taking us?"

"I merely wish to show you something," was the Oriental's reply as he halted before a small jalouse of bamboo. "Pray look out, but do not show your face at the window."

Being on the second story of the Floating Lily, North swiftly perceived that he could see both up and down the street, and then made a second, more interesting discovery.

Nearly posted about the street, four cars were strategically parked before the Floating Lily's entrance, and in each lounged at least one man.

North recognized the one on guard in the nearest car as the merchant marine officer who had been Captain Karen's companion. When this brawny watcher bent to light a cigarette, something glittered significantly in his hand.

"You perhaps would consider the use of a private exit?" was Lau Yee Foo's bland suggestion.

Cast Of 50 Or More Ready For Dance Recital Friday

The district's outstanding dance talent will "go parade" when Bettie Lee Kenneweg Schilling, dance instructor, holds her ninth annual recital at 8:15 p. m. Friday in the High school auditorium.

A cast of 50 students or more, from three years up, will make up the list of performers.

The recital comes as a climax to a season of preparation extending back to last fall for the beginners. For others who have been studying with Bettie Lee for a number of years, the recital brings an opportunity for the presentation of a more advanced performance.

The final dress rehearsal will be held Thursday evening in the High school auditorium with the entire program, including orchestra numbers, being carried out.

Colorful Costumes
The management announces the costumes will be more beautiful and colorful than ever. The recital this year will cover a more extensive scope than in previous years. La Congas, Rhumbas, Mexicanas, that have been sweeping the country by storm, will be presented. The work of the students is more advanced, the scenery, the costumes, etc., more elaborate. As always, the most outstanding features of the program will be a "tap routine," a specialty number in the new modern dancing, as was presented to Bettie Lee by her teacher, Von Gruno of New York City.

A wide variety of solos and chorus routines have been especially prepared, including acrobatic, tap numbers, toe, songs and taps and many novelty arrangements.

Betty Jean Cosgarea, one of Bettie Lee's most advanced students, will be a feature of Friday night's program, doing several fast tap numbers, one of her best numbers being a "military tap" with high majorette hat and baton, and "Cecilia," with plenty of tricky steps, pickups and wings.

Will Dance La Conga
Barbara and Ricki Rose, children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rose of Leetonia, will present their new "La Conga." Barbara and Ricki have been appearing before various groups in and around Leetonia and Salem the last few months.

Another clever dance team are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Eckhart, Jean and Jerry. They will appear in a collegiate number called "Varsity Drag." Jean also will be seen in several acrobatic novelties.

To a fast tempo, Margie Fineran, one of the advanced students this year, will give her interpretation of "Navy Blues," a military tap, and "Havana's Calling Me," to the weird tunes of the tom-toms. Tiny feet of little Helen Doris Copacia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Copacia, will dance "Madame LaZonga."

Among the more experienced youngsters appearing on Friday night's program will be Baby Leo Copacia, in a specialty song, "Down Argentine Way," with accompaniment by Mrs. Esther Odoran.

Bettie Lee expects Friday night's recital to be one of her best performances.

Former Salem Woman's Daughter Bride
The wedding of Miss Helen Haldeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Haldeman of Emerson, Ia., to Ray D. Lufkin, Jr., of Clarinda, Ia., was solemnized at 2 p. m. Sunday, June 22, at the bride's home.

Mrs. Ellis Lefgren of Red Oak, Ia., sister of the bride, and Clarence Hush of Nebraska City, Neb., were attendants. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Samuel Lee, pastor of the Champion Hill church near Emerson.

A reception was held following the ceremony for 30 guests. The couple left later for a wedding trip through Colorado.

Mrs. L. J. Haldeman, mother of the bride, was the former Rachel Brown of Salem.

Jay-Cee Sorority Entertained
The Jay-Cee sorority was entertained last night at the home of Jean Dixon on Ohio ave., with three new members, Elaine McGhee, Sophie Herman and Beryl Stove attending the first meeting since their initiation last Thursday. Elizabeth Stewart was hostess to the group at that time at the Salem Country club.

Dancing and a lunch were features during the evening.

The July 8 meeting will be held at the home of Miss Anna May Helman, E. Seventh st.

Women Play Golf At Alliance
A group of 17 Salem Golf club women were present yesterday when Alliance clubwomen entertained the local members at golf, luncheon and bridge in Alliance.

Mrs. W. C. Windle and Mrs. John Gonda were among the golf prize winners.

Salem ladies will have a "get-together" Friday at the club, with golf at 9 a. m. The committee will serve coffee and members will bring their own sandwiches.

Women's Relief Corps Has Dinner
The quarterly birthday dinner of the Treseott Women's Relief Corps No. 34 was held Tuesday afternoon in the K. of P. hall with 27 members attending.

The tables were attractive with bouquets of pink roses.

The next session will be held July 8.

Cards followed the business meeting and dinner.

Catholic Daughters To Have Picnic
Catholic Daughters of America will hold a picnic supper at 6 p. m. Thursday in Centennial park. The annual event is for members and their families.

Conclude Sessions Until September
Peace sisterhood No. 189, Dames of Malta, will meet Thursday night at the K. of P. hall for the last business session until September. All members are urged to attend.

Misses Eva Simpson, Irene Slutz and Nora Greenawalt returned yesterday from Lake Placid, N. Y., where they attended the annual convention of Quota International last week. They also visited at the Pine army camp near Watertown, N. Y., with Sgt. William C. Hayes, formerly of Salem, and spent some time at Watkins Glens and Cook's Forest.

Golf Club Dances Are Arranged

Orchestras have been secured to play for the three Salem Golf club dances which are planned for the summer season. Members and guests enjoyed an initial dance earlier this month.

Frank Corbi's Rhythm Masters will play for the Golf club dance scheduled July 5. Freddie Boes' orchestra will play for the Aug. 2 dance, and Art White's orchestra on Aug. 30.

A floor show featuring two complete acts will be an intermission attraction at the next dance, committee members announce.

Members of the dance committee include Mrs. G. A. Rose, Mrs. F. P. Mullins, Mrs. Robert Campbell, Mrs. L. W. King, C. D. Harris, Glen Harding and J. Arch Harwood.

Missionary Circle Names Officers

New officers were elected last night by the Jessie Thomas Missionary circle of Trinity Lutheran church at the home of Mrs. Clifford Greenisen on the Lisbon rd.

They are: President, Miss Evelyn Tullis; vice president, Mrs. Donald Izenour; secretary, Mrs. Harriet Harris; treasurer, Mrs. Howard Groner.

The program topic, "God's Time," was discussed by the members, led by Miss Tullis.

Plans were completed for a picnic at Firestone park in Columbiana July 29, at which Mrs. Groner will be hostess.

Lunch was served during the social hour.

Presbyterian Class Enjoys Outing

The June meeting of the Trimble class of the Presbyterian church was held at a picnic supper last night in Centennial park, attended by 25 members. Mrs. Martha Laughlin, president, was in charge of the business meeting.

Mrs. Harry Want led the devotional service, followed by group singing of hymns and "God Bless America." Contests were enjoyed, conducted by Mrs. John S. Crawford.

Hostesses were Misses Sara Walker and Lucy Arner, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Edna Stauffer and Mrs. Want.

The July 29 meeting will be in charge of Mrs. W. E. Bunn and her hostess group.

Spencer Class Program At Jewell Home

Mrs. Ada Hawkins was leader of the devotional service, opening the Presbyterian Spencer class meeting, last night at the home of Mrs. Theodore Jewell, Tenth st.

Several guests and the members enjoyed an informal program, featuring piano numbers by Carol Ann King. She played "The Swan" (Adler) and "The Primrose Waltz" (Martin). Members sewed for the Red Cross.

Lunch was served by the hostess and her committee: Mrs. Bruce Carey, Mrs. Floyd Crawford, Mrs. Hawkins, Mrs. J. R. King, Mrs. Pearl Koontz, Mrs. Alice Montgomery and Miss Ava Webb.

Daughters of Emmanuel Convened Tonight

Daughters of Emmanuel will meet at 7:30 tonight in the social rooms of the Emmanuel Lutheran church. The study topic will be "The More Abundant Life for the Home." Hostesses will be Mrs. John Bauman, Mrs. Andrew Drotleff and Mrs. Matthew Engeter.

Continental Girls Meet Thursday

The Continental Girls will meet at the home of Miss Virginia Morrow on the Benton rd Thursday. A large attendance is requested.

Marriage licenses have been issued at Lisbon to:

Clarence J. Holzbach, salesman, and Mary E. DeGarmo, both of Salem.

David P. Moore, coal dealer, and Levada J. Bailey, both of Wellsville.

Harry Skeels, bus operator, of Toronto, and Inez Watson of East Liverpool.

Licenses have been applied for at Lisbon by:

Lee V. Mercer, carpenter, of Damascus, and Wanda Zimmerman, R. D. 2, Salem.

Arthur Nelson Burson, steel worker, Beaver Falls, Pa., and Velma Thomas, Lisbon, R. D. 4.

Ewalt Renn, laborer, South Beaver, Pa., and Mary Riggs, Negley.

Steve Kalna, laborer, and Theodora Kusmirek, both of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Fred Althouse of 305 W. Eighth st. has been brought home from North Side hospital, Youngstown, following an operation.

Closing Meeting Of Season Held By Mother's Club

Mrs. Guy Byers, an honorary member, was a guest at the dinner and program last night marking the close of the 1940-41 season of the Progressive Mothers circle.

Members went from the Westville chicken dinner to the home of Mrs. Richard Wilson on Maple st. where installation of officers was held.

New officers, installed by Mrs. Lowell Brown, retiring president, are: President, Mrs. Ernest Horton; vice president, Mrs. Donald Reichart; secretary, Mrs. Charles Hannon; treasurer, Mrs. A. W. Lieder.

The program was featured by a review of the Willie Snow Ethridge book, "I'll Sing One Song," given by Mrs. Byers who was a college classmate of the author. Mrs. Ethridge's first book, "As I Live and Breathe," was a chronicle of her life in Georgia. The latest work from the pen of the wife of a Louisville, Ky., newspaperman, is a delightful account of her life since moving to Kentucky.

Mrs. James Bowers, Mrs. Charles Meek of Salem and Mrs. Elmer Wagstaff of Damascus were received as new members.

Lunch was served during the social hour which followed.

Mrs. Allen Chandler Mrs. A. W. Lieder, Mrs. Myron Kelly and Mrs. Clarence Dickey are in charge of arrangements for a picnic in August, the date to be announced later.

Reunion Is Planned
The Mead family reunion will be held Sunday at the Log Cabin at Silver park, Alliance. A picnic basket dinner will be held at noon.

Report On Annual Quota Convention

American nations. He said that South America is unwilling to trust too far the policy of U. S. trade and relations because they believe the U. S. will drop trade with her when the present war is through, to resume buying of merchandise from other lands, as this nation did at the close of the first world conflict. He advocated a wider exchange of South American-North American students to spread the democratic form of government and way of life.

Mrs. Effie Loudermilk of West Virginia was elected president of the international organization.

Continue Girls' Service

Girls' service work, which has been the main project of Quota since 1935, will be continued as a special program this year called "Community Service," including good citizenship, crime prevention, friendly relations, local and international.

The tables for the dinner were decorated with Dorothy Perkins roses. Novelty favors from the convention were given as prizes during the evening. Mrs. Elizabeth Baker was presented a pin from the international office in recognition of her work in securing new members during the year.

E. Liverpool Puts O. K. On Three-Lane Highway

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 25.—Endorsement of a million-dollar highway project north of East Liverpool was given last night at a meeting of civic officials.

The project calls for the widening of U. S. Route 30 between the city and Madison church to a three-lane highway. The distance is eight miles.

City officials will go to Columbus within a few days to seek state and federal funds for the job.

downward; and the cultivation of greater faith in life and the universe.

The inspirational address of Dr. Slutz was followed by presentation of diplomas by D. E. McCune, president of the hospital board of trustees, and the presentation of nursing pins to graduates by Miss Esther Wilson, hospital superintendent.

The speaker was introduced by Atty. South Metzger, secretary of the hospital trustees' board, who presented other numbers of the program.

Special Music on Program
Music for the program opened with an organ recital by Homer S. Taylor, whose numbers included as professional the "Festal March in C" (C. J. Grey) and as recessional "The Grand March" from "Aida" (Verdi).

Vocal solos were "Alone in Love's Garden" (Hewitt) by Mrs. J. Herbert, singing with violin obligato by Walter Regal and piano accompaniment by Mrs. Ruth Berry; and "A Flower from Memory's Garden" (Thompson) Mrs. Charles Gibson, accompanied by Mrs. Berry.

The Student Nurses chorus, members of which are members of the training school student body, was heard in three numbers "Spanish Gardens" (David Haupt), "When Day Is Done" (Katscher), and "Dedication" (Robert Prantz).

The chorus is directed by Miss Martha Kraus.

Rev. Carl Asmus, pastor of the Methodist church, gave the invocation and pronounced the benediction.

Greetings of the hospital medical staff were extended by Dr. Harry Bookwalter of Columbiana, chief of the medical staff who told graduates that in "a profession to which there is no limit, their opportunities to do good are unlimited."

The commencement program concluded with the Nightingale pledge given by the seven graduates. They are: Misses Dora E. Bush of Greenford, Ella R. Beardsley and Bernice T. Schafer of Ellsworth, Evelyn Martha Kibler of Leetonia, Elaine E. Miller of Leetonia, Helen E. Mulhern of Salineville and Alice M. Crowell of Lisbon.

Columbiana Plans Canvass For USO

COLUMBIANA, June 25.—Campaign Chairman H. W. McGrath and other chairmen for the U. S. O. canvass to be made in Columbiana met at Miller's store Tuesday evening to arrange final plans.

The house-to-house canvass will be made by the Girl Reserves. A committee meeting of the girls is being held today and the group will call at the homes and collect the envelopes with the contributions today and Thursday. If anyone is not contacted, he can make a contribution at Miller's appliance store. Columbiana's quota is $300.

Garden clubs, flower lovers and the public in general is invited to visit the Japanese iris gardens now in full bloom at the Clyde Yarian farm. Said to be one of the most outstanding collections in Ohio, the gardens have 35 named varieties and 450 specimens. Mrs. Yarian has spent 15 years working up this collection.

There are both early and late varieties and the blossoms will be at full height the next two weeks. The gardens are located one and one-half miles due west on Route 7 and one and one-half miles southeast of Fairfield centralized school. Visiting days are anytime Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

The L. L. class of the Presbyterian church will be entertained at the home of Mrs. W. M. Callier, New Waterford rd. Friday afternoon. Members desiring transportation are asked to be at the church at 2 o'clock. Roll call will be responded to by "Most Interesting Places I Have Seen."

The 75-piece Lisbon school band will present a free concert at the swimming pool at Firestone park at 7:30 this evening. Last night the Beaver Valley chorus of 30 voices gave a concert.

Everett Warrick presided at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at Firestone park Monday evening in the absence of the president. Preceding the dinner, outdoor games were enjoyed. The dinner was served by the ladies of the Legion auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Vanskiver, Mrs. Gladys Wetter and daughter Donna, and Mrs. Cora Vanskiver attended the annual treat and entertainment at the county home, Lisbon, recently.

75,000 Men Extend Homage to Christ In Outdoor Rites

(By Associated Press)
ST. PAUL, June 25.—Under a starry summer sky, a pilgrimage of men, estimated by church officials at 75,000, paid homage last night to Jesus Christ.

Their assemblages on the Minnesota fair grounds was one of the spectacles of the ninth National Eucharistic congress—an interval of solemn meditation called the "holy hour for men" from 11 p. m. to midnight.

Young and old, they sat bareheaded as The Most Rev. John J. Mitty, archbishop of San Francisco, counseled them in the way of sacrifice—in emulation of the eucharistic king.

Believe in Christ Crucified
"It is not sufficient to believe in the divinity of Christ," the archbishop intoned. "We must also believe in Christ crucified for the redemption of the human race. We must either accept it or reject it."

They answered, "have mercy on us," as the Litany of the Sacred Heart was read. The rumble of 75,000 voices fell on a listener's ears like the low thunder of a great tide upon a beach.

In the glaring floodlights, men, their solemn faces pale, centered their gaze upon the baldachin. Within it, before an altar surmounted by the crucifix, Bishop James Griffin, Springfield, Ill., in white and gold vestments, surrounded by incense bearers and priests in black cassock and white surplice, knelt.

Confers Benediction
Simultaneously, Bishop Graham turned to the candle-lighted altar from which gleamed the sacred monstrance. Grasping it in both hands, he raised the monstrance to his forehead, then turned successively to center, left and right, made the sign of the cross, conferring upon the massed thousands the climax to their hour of holy thought—the benediction of the blessed sacrament, which in the Roman Catholic church is the appearance of Christ under bread.

As the Bishop made the sign of the cross, the great audience followed him and the movement of thousands of arms, touching head and heart sounded like the rustling of wind in a pine forest.

Held In Baby's Death
RAVENNA, June 25.—John W. Smith, 40, a Ravenna arsenal worker, was bound over to the Portage county grand jury today on a charge of second-degree manslaughter in the fatal injury of a 22-month-old baby of near-by Freedom Station a week ago. He was released on $1,000 bond. Esther Rose Gigante was riding in his car, police said, when she was fatally injured.

PROHIBIT FIXING OF CIGARETTE PRICES

COLUMBUS, June 26.—The Ohio Supreme Court has held invalid contracts under the Ohio Fair Trade Law which sought to peg the retail price of leading brands of cigarettes at 16 cents per pack.

The decision which affirmed a ruling of the Lucas county appellate court held that the contracts between jobbers and retailers were "illegal and void as in violation of the law against combinations in restraint of trade."

The court's pronouncement was made in a suit brought by Leo Rayess of Toledo, against the Lane Drug Co. to restrain the latter from selling cigarettes under the agreed price of 16 cents per pack as had been established by the tobacco division of the Ohio Fair Trade Act and a majority of retailers.

The appellate court had found that the pegged price was not in fact an agreed price between jobbers and retail dealers, but one primarily established by the jobbers which the retailers were forced to accept.

New Drunk Test Adopted

CINCINNATI, June 25.—Effective July 15, the urinalysis method of prosecuting drunken drivers will be adopted here, City Manager C. O. Sherrill announced. Dr. Carl A. Welzbach, health commissioner; Police Chief Eugene Weatherly and Prosecutor Robert Paul were instructed to get ready for operation of the plan, the same as is used in Cleveland.

Ton Jon Wins Another Friend By Relieving Stomach Distress And Nervousness For Marlins Ferry Lady

Unbearable Headaches, Gassy, Sour Stomach, and Dizziness Make Life Miserable for Housewife.

"For the last year I have suffered from nervousness and a general rundown condition," said Mrs. Albert Weatherston, 109 Penn. st., Martins Ferry, Ohio.

"I had headaches so badly that they were almost unbearable. I had very little appetite and what I ate would give me indigestion. Gas formed in my stomach, causing a pressure against my heart, and it would flutter. My stomach seemed to always be sour and sometimes it cramped severely. Sudden motion of my body would invariably make me dizzy and I would have to sit down because I felt I was going to fall if I didn't sit down immediately. There was always a bad taste in my mouth and my breath was offensive."

"My husband and friends had taken TON JON with such pleasing results that I decided to try it, too. I am certainly thankful I did, for I have only taken it a short time and I feel 100% better already. Those pesky headaches have vanished now, I have a healthy appetite and can eat with the knowledge and consolation that I won't be troubled with after-eating distress. Those stomach cramps have gradually diminished and dizzy spells are only an unpleasant memory. Any disorder is very rare since I have taken TON JON."

The TON JON Health Representative at the Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio, will help you in any way.

200 Draft Questionnaires Sent to Men In District

LISBON, June 25.—Draft board No. 3 today had mailed questionnaires to 200 young men in the district, meanwhile listing nine, selected according to order numbers, to fill the quota of the 21st call on June 30. Those to be inducted into the service next Monday are:

Paul Edgar Pfeffer, Thomas F. Miller and Howard L. Dotson of Wellsville; Carl Joseph Baumann and Earl Donald Hough, East Palestine; Oliver William Nicholson and Clifford Earl Williamson, Salineville; Walter Watkins, Lisbon, and Vance Lee Siverling, New Waterford.

Columbus Girl Missing

COLUMBUS, June 25.—Police today were without clues in the disappearance of Mary Louise Glendening, 19-year-old art student. The girl's absence was revealed after a three-week futile search by police and private detectives. Police said the girl's mother, Mrs. Joseph A. Glendening, told them her daughter had been missing since she went to attend evening school art classes June 2.

Abduction Story Fraud

CLEVELAND, June 25.—Mrs. Anna Kupisz's story that two men dressed her and smeared black paint on her body was all a hoax, Detective Peter Merylo said today. He quoted the 35-year-old woman as saying she concocted the abduction story recently to "get even" with a suitor, Mrs. Kupisz, who was found nude in a park road, will face court Tuesday on a charge of making a false report.

SPORTSMEN PLAN GUILFORD OUTING
LISBON, June 25.—Plans for the annual field day of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association, scheduled for Sunday, August 3, will be made at a meeting of the organization Monday night in the Moose hall.

The National Casting association this year will have charge of casting events, it was announced today by Richard Andrus of East Liverpool, association president. The county group is now a member of the national association.

A miniature trapshoot is to be one of the field day events.

Bruderly Hurls China To Two-Hit Shutout Of Carrolls, 12-0

DETELLE IS ONLY CARROLLER ABLE TO HIT IN GAME

Dale Ritchie Pitches No-Hitter Until Sixth—Then Grants Five

Kenny Bruderly last night led the Salem China to a two-hit shutout victory over the Carroll club, 12-0. Ray Detelle was the only Carroller who could solve Bruderly's offerings, collecting two hits to avert a no-hit game. Bruderly chalked up four strikeouts in the five-inning contest.

Umpire Ray Reasbeck, whipping down to third base to cover a close play in the game, stepped on a baseball bat. He is expected to be off crutches in about a week.

In the second game Dale Ritchie went into the sixth inning with no hits and had allowed no one to reach first base when Crumbaker, Electric Furnace shortstop, lined out a base hit. With the pressure off, the Furnace went on to collect four more hits but still were roughly handled by the Sanitary, 14-1. The Porcelain players collected 18 hits in the one-sided contest to maintain their undefeated record in the second round and join in a tie with Mullins and the Recreation for pole position.

Pat Bolen, Church league umpire, will handle Class A league encounters until Reasbeck's pulled ankle ligament gets back in shape. Joe Kelley will move over to the Church league diamond, meanwhile.

Church League
In the first Church league game last night the Y. P. C. C. gathered in their second victory in as many nights by defeating the Baptists, 8-3. The Fiani brothers each slugged a triple for the winners and R. Julian pounded out a homer.

The Presbyterians, taking advantage of homers by Allison and McGhee, drove through to a 9-5 win over the Christians. McGhee also scored a triple for the Presbyterians.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz.)

NEW YORK, June 25.—(The Special News Service.)—How'd you like to slug one out of a sand trap with a golf club worth $116,437? Some anonymous gent around town can do that, for when they auctioned off a set for the British war relief benefit at Lido the other day, he bid $1,650 for the lot.

A barber shop in Hollis, L. I., offers a free shave and haircut to any customer who is in the barber chair listening to the broadcast of the Dodgers' game when "them bums" hit a homer. . . Wisconsin's oarsmen don't mind being called the "cheese champs." They took a lot of five-pound samples of Wisconsin cheese to Poughkeepsie and handed them out in the other boat-houses.

Consumers' Research

Paul Maher of Harlingen, Texas, repeats his prediction that the Indians can't win because he claims they have to depend on Bobby Feller for 40 per cent of their victories, which would mean at least 38 wins for master Robert this season. . . Frank Berg tips us that the Indians have the inside track on Carl Ray, Wake Forest college pitcher, who is being trailed by several big league clubs.

Today's Guest Star

Art Rosenbaum, San Francisco Chronicle: "It was a good idea when San Jose State wrapped up its football players and carted them by plane to all games last season. . . It was so good that San Jose won't have much left next season, because the Spartans have lost almost every veteran on the squad—to the Army Air Corps."

We Just Write 'Em

An item slipped into the sport page of the N. Y. Herald Tribune the other day which said "Peasants held a grand celebration in Toporivsky, North Bukovina, to mark their success in staging a drama, 'Naraz Stodola,' by a Ukrainian poet, Taras Shevchenko."

When last sighted Jimmy Crowley was looking for those guys to plug a few holes in his Fordham line.

RED HOT YANKS THREATEN TRIBE FOR LEAGUE LEAD

Hit Soft Spot In Schedule Which May Put Them In First

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees not only are sizzling hot, they also have reached a soft spot in the schedule that may enable them to slip into first place in the American league on or before the Fourth of July, when pennant winners are supposed to become apparent.

Right now the Yanks are facing the last-place St. Louis Browns for two more games and after they finish this series will move into four contests with the almost equally feeble Philadelphia Athletics, and Washington Senators.

Tougher For Tribe

In the same period the league-leading Cleveland Indians must tackle the robust Boston Red Sox twice and the chesty Chicago White Sox three times.

The implications of this schedule came to the fore yesterday as the Yankees slaughtered the Browns, 9-1, while the Indians were being massacred, 12-2, at Boston, reducing the margin between the two top clubs to a single game.

Yanks Look Good

The Yanks looked powerful with a blooming 10-hit attack that included home runs by Red Rolfe, Joe Gordon and Tom Henrich, and with Lefty Vernon Gomez pitching five-hit ball for a shutout until the ninth.

In contrast, Cleveland made only two runs off its 10 hits as Heber (Dick) Newsome labored carefully and effectively in the pinches for his fourth victory in a row.

The Washington Senators moved out of the cellar with a 6-3 triumph over the White Sox on the effective, eight-hit hurling of Emil (Dutch) Leonard. The Detroit Tigers nudged out the Athletics, 2-1, in a night game at Philadelphia with a run in the ninth inning on two singles and a fly.

Cards and Bums Race

In the National league the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers continued virtually neck and neck. The Cards crushed the Boston Braves, 13-1, and the Dodgers struck back with an 8-0 victory over the Pirates in a night skirmish at Pittsburgh to keep within a half-game of the leaders.

The New York Giants whipped the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, and also cost the Bruins the services outfielder Hank Leibler, who was beamed for the second time in his career.

The Cincinnati Reds downed the Phillies, 5-1, with Bucky Walters pitching five-hit ball and knocking in two runs with a double.

BAGBY WILL HURL FOR TRIBE TODAY

Sox Now Within Three Games, Yanks One, of First Place

BOSTON, June 25.—The Yankees and the Red Sox hot on their heels, Cleveland's Indians pulled themselves together today for another tilt with Boston, sending Jim Bagby in there to pitch.

Bagby allowed his former teammates only seven hits the last time he faced them. Making his first appearance of the season against the Tribe is Lefty Grove, out for his fifth victory of the year.

Boston bats collected eight hits off Mel Harder, four off Clint Brown and six off Ken Jungsels yesterday for a 13 to 2 victory. Harder was charged with the loss and the winner was young Dick Newsome. He let the Tribe have 10 hits but they counted for little.

The carnage brought the Sox within three games of Cleveland, as the Yanks climbed to within one game.

Kindness Repaid

DANVILLE, Ind.—James Gentry, deputy town marshal, vouches for this dog story:

A stray dog that had four pups in the basement of an old school gathered food for them from four Danville homes.

When they were weaned, she left one at each of these four homes.

LEGAL NOTICE

LEGAL NOTICE

JAMES D. BECK, whose last known place of residence was 631 Raleigh Place, S. E., Washington, D. C., will take notice of the 18th day of June, 1941, the Plaintiff, Margaret Beck, filed her action against him in the Court of Common Pleas of Columbiana County, Ohio, the same being cause No. 30994 in said Court.

The prayer of said Petition is for divorce on the ground of gross neglect of duty and for other equitable relief. Defendant is required to answer said Petition on or before the 30th day of July, 1941, or said divorce will be granted as prayed for.

been dropped behind the Russian lines, the Soviet communiqué declared. It alleged they were in "the uniform of Soviet militiamen."

The communiqué said the Germans had driven into Sovietized Lithuania in the direction of Siauliai and the capital, Kaunas; into the northern section of Sovietized eastern Poland toward Grodno, Wolkowysk and Kobryn, and into Sovietized southeastern Poland in the direction of Wlodzimierz and Brody.

All these penetrations, whose depth was not specified, were meeting "stiff resistance," the communiqué said. It reported that thrusts in the Siauliai area "have been repelled with heavy losses" and said "counter-attacks of our mechanized units in this direction have destroyed tank formations of the enemy and a mechanized regiment has been entirely annihilated."

"Fire fighting" was reported under way in the defense of Grodno, Vilna and Kaunas against German thrusts northeast from East Prussia and into the 200-mile wide strip of Sovietized Poland north of the vast Pinsk marshes.

SALEM LADS BACK FROM BOYS' STATE

The five Salem High school boys who attended the Buckeye Boys State at Columbus during the past 10 days returned home yesterday afternoon. Most of the boys won elective honors while at the citizenship school.

Rev. Carl Asmus and John T. Burns went to Columbus and transported the youths home in their cars.

The quintet included Homer Asmus, Wayne J. Steffel, Charles Lind, William Rance and William Dunlap.

Attack From Above

PORT MATLIDA, Pa.—Lucian G. Dale swerved his automobile and avoided striking 14-year-old Eugene Orwick as he rode along on a bicycle.

However, the car rammed into a barn. The impact hurled a shingle which broke one of the youth's ribs.

RAF AGAIN BOMBS COAST OF FRANCE

Blasts Nazi - Held Ports
After Night Raid On Germany

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, June 25.—Following up their 14th successive night assault on western Germany, RAF bombers roared across the Channel again today and thunderous explosions which soon echoed back over the water indicated they were blasting once more at the Nazi-occupied French coast.

The big German industrial centers of Cologne and Dusseldorf and the naval base at Kiel were the main targets of the British night raids, the Air ministry declared. It acknowledged the loss of two planes in the operations.

The pre-night attacks were directed principally against Boulogne and Calais and observers in the English side of the Channel said they appeared to be among the heaviest assaults on those French ports. Nine German fighters were destroyed and two British fighters were missing from the raids, the British said.

In the 11 attacks against the coast made in the past nine days the Germans lost 121 planes and the British 23 fighters, the British said.

Some persons were killed and others injured and damage was caused by the German attack on Liverpool, the British said. At least four raiders were said to have been shot down.

A German Heinkel 11 bomber was reported shot down by anti-aircraft fire while diving to attack a convoy early today, the Admiralty reported. Location of the action was not given. The Admiralty said no damage or casualties were suffered by the convoy.

MOVIE ACTORS GO TO NIGHT SCHOOL

HOLLYWOOD, June 25.—Movie glamor boys still burn the midnight oil, but not always in the night clubs.

Correspondence courses linked with national defense are keeping several of the erstwhile bright lights contingent humped over desks into the early hours.

Ronald Reagan, for example, is a second lieutenant in the cavalry reserve, subject to call at any time. He's spending nights on a war department course in tactical problems.

Similarly Wayne Morris, who once called every nightery doorman in town by his first name, is navigating imaginary ships around imaginary oceans, in a course provided by the navy. Morris, an ensign in the reserve, is due to report in a week or so at the end of deferment granted to finish a picture.

Robert Cummings, a captain in the air corps reserve and one of the movie colony's best known fliers, turns his spare time talents to navigation and meteorology. He too is subject to immediate call.

There's no need for 6 foot, 5 inch Stirling Hayden to study seamanship or navigation—he holds a master's license and once sailed his own schooner into the south seas. But because he didn't attend college, he's ineligible for a naval reserve commission without strict examination. So a mathematics book is his companion many evenings.

Young Robert Stack, with an eye to the tank corps, is studying mechanics. It's a field in which he already has shown a bent. William Lundigan is doing extension work in engineering.

Even Franchot Tone, once as notable a playboy as these parts could boast, is on the list. He hasn't entirely given night clubs the go-by, but is spending much extra time in intensive camera work to be fit, if called, for the aerial photography branch.

TREMOULIS HEADS OHIO GREEK ORDER

George Tremoulis of Salem is the new governor of the Buckeye district, American Hellenic Educational Progressive association.

Tremoulis, who has been acting governor for John P. Harritos of Cincinnati during Harritos' service with the U. S. army, was elected at the annual convention in Huntington, W. Va.

Others elected included: Crist Montague of Cleveland, secretary; and Chris A. Politz of Middletown, O., marshal. The group voted to meet at Canton in 1942.

Plan Fishing Trip
Dr. J. M. McGeorge and James Pidgeon will leave tomorrow for a fishing trip to Rice Lake, Canada.

Airmen's Choice

Janice Robinson does things in a big way. Posing prettily at Tahiti Beach, Miami, she wears on her bathing suit the insignia of eight different ratings of the nearby Opa Locka Naval Air Station. Among them are signalmen, aerial photographers, master mechanics and gunnery experts.

Theatre Attractions

"A Woman's Face," which critics and audiences alike have voted Joan Crawford's finest screen work, is featured Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State theater. Melvyn Douglas, Conrad Veidt, Osa Massen, Reginald Owen, Albert Basserman, Marjorie Main, Donald Meek and William Farnum are in the cast.

The story of a woman who turned to crime when a hideous scar made people shun her and the story of her regeneration after plastic surgery made her appearance normal is outstanding solely through the fine work of the cast. The story, while well directed and edited, needed almost inspired acting to make it a better than average picture. Miss Crawford's work does that for the film.

The State theater's concluding attraction tonight is "Power Dive" with Richard Arlen, Jean Parker, Roger Pryor, Helen Mack, Cliff Edwards and Don Castle.

Showing tonight only at the Grand theater are: "The Black Cat," murder mystery, featuring Basil Rathbone, Be'a Lugosi, Hugh Herbert, Broderick Crawford, Gale Sondergaard and Ann Gwynne; and a mystery-comedy, "For Beauty's Sake," with Marjorie Weaver, Ned Sparks, Ted North and Joan Davis.

Zines Hurls Youngstown Fireproofing To 2-1 Win Over Salem

CHUCK WHEATON'S HOMER IN SECOND IS WINNING TALLY

Phillis and Wright Hurl For All-Star Salem Aggregation

Playing sure, steady defense behind the steady steady and effective hurling of Johnny Zines, the General Fireproofing softball club of Youngstown nosed out the Salem All-Stars 2-1 last night at Centennial park.

A long, hard drive by "Chuck" Wheaton, former Youngstown Rayen High school star, over the head of Left Fielder Red Hall in the second inning, was the deciding margin. The other Youngstown run came in the first inning on singles by Busko and Burkholz and Varie's infield out.

The only Salem tally came in the fifth inning when Schaffer blasted out a triple and then scored on an infield out by Greenisen.

Ralph Phillis hurled seven innings for the Salem aggregation. Orrie Wright, pitching the last two frames, struck out one and walked one.

Zines, an employee of General Fireproofing, was originally slated to pitch for Salem but hurried for the Youngstons when their pitcher failed to show up. In hurling the route he struck out four and walked two.

The Salem team had six men left on bases. Fireproofing nine.

Tribe Slips, Calls Feller To Rescue

BOSTON, June 26.—That young, reliable Bob Feller came galloping to the Redskins' rescue today.

Knocked out of first place by the Boston Red Sox as the Yankees took the lead with a victory over St. Louis, Cleveland needs a win with Feller today to salvage the last game of the Boston series. The Indians lost two in Washington and then Feller won. They have lost two in Boston, and their second eastern trip stands at four up and seven down.

On his record of 15 wins and three losses, Rapid Robert is a five-to-one shot to pull them through today. His opponent is left-handed Mickey Harris.

The Sox climbed to within two games of the Tribe on yesterday's 7 to 2 win, with that old-timer, Lefty Grove, pitching. Jim Bagby allowed nine hits to the seven which Cleveland made, and was the loser. Cleveland had 11 stranded on the bases, to Boston's six, which made the difference.

OHIO SKEET STARS MEET IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, June 26.—Ohio's expert skeet shooters are sharpening their eyes for the state championship matches here Saturday and Sunday. One of the largest fields in the tournament's seven-year-old history is expected to fire at the flying targets.

The defending champions, E. F. Adams of Toledo, small bore, Dr. John H. Nichols of Cleveland, 27-gauge, and M. Y. Smythe of Aurora, all-bore, will seek to repeat.

In addition, two Ohio women who won national fame as skeet shooters will contend for titles. They are Miss Patricia Laursen of Akron, women's all-gauge champion, and Mrs. L. L. Smythe of Aurora, small-gauge title-holder.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Pitch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)
NEW YORK, June 26.—(The Special News Service)—Poughkeepsie pickups: The talk along rowing row all week has been that Washington's Al Ulbrickson will get a bid from Yale to take Ed Leader's place. The Eli alumni think something must be done about Harvard's string of victories and the Crimson won't go to Poughkeepsie to let Ulbrickson do it with his Huskies. Like Washington, George Pocock couldn't lose yesterday. He built all the boats in the race.

One Minute Interview
Ty Cobb: "I like to watch baseball but I haven't seen a game yet this year. Maybe it's because the mistakes I see on the field drive me wild. Maybe it's because I hate the change that's come over the game. When the value of one run was destroyed, a big kick was taken out of the game for me."

Fall Guys
Summer's only a few days old but the pro football clubs already are bombarding us with announcements of players being signed up, etc. ... Susquehanna U. won't have just one football captain this year, but four. Navy will get a year of football out of Fred Van't Hull, Minnesota tackle, who just got his Ann Arbor appointment. Auburn has enough football players studying in its summer school to make up a full football team. ... Who called it soft, though? Coast scries claim the conference coaches ought to kick back part of their salaries now, since the strictly amateur code lets them loaf all summer instead of scouting for talent.

Today's Guest Star
Charles Johnson, Minneapolis Star Journal: "In many respects, Joe Louis is like the Minnesota football team. Northwestern, for example might beat the Gophers on this Saturday, but next Saturday they couldn't beat Podunk college. The reason is that the Maroon and Gold boys took so much out of them that they couldn't move." (Ed's note: take it from us it's a tremendous compliment to Joe when a Minnesotan compares him to the Gophers.)

YANKEES IN FIRST PLACE AS INDIANS LOSE TO GROVE 7-2

DiMaggio Extends Hitting Streak to 37 Games, Nearing Record

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer.
For the first time since the season was in its infancy the New York Yankees are in first place in the American league today, and now the pressure is on the Cleveland Indians.

Critics of Cleveland always have contended the Indians were front runners who would fold up if the going got tough and the Yankees are not going to let anybody wait till September to find out.

The Yanks captured the lead yesterday by bumping the St. Louis Browns 7-5 while the third-place Boston Red Sox raided the Tribe, 7 to 2.

Joe Keeps Going
Joe DiMaggio led the bombing in New York with a two-run homer that extended his hitting streak to 37 games, four short of the record, and made 20 consecutive contests in which one or more of the Yanks have hit home runs. It was the Yankees' 13th triumph in 16 contests.

In Boston the Indians were set back on their heels by old Lefty Grove, who pitched seven-hit ball for the 29th victory of his long and illustrious career. This was Cleveland's seventh defeat in 11 games.

The best one-game pitching show of the season, however, was staged for a little throng of 2,900 fans at Washington yesterday when John Rigney and Sid Hudson struggled for 12 scoreless innings before the White Sox downed the Senators 2-0 in the 13th.

The Philadelphia Athletics nosed out the Detroit Tigers 5-4 with a triple by Al Brancato scoring two runs and deciding the game in the fourth frame.

Cards, Dodgers Win
In the National league the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers both won, preserving the half-game margin between them.

Ernie White held the Boston Braves to seven hits and fanned nine as the Cardinals coasted to a 6-2 decision after tallying five times in the first two frames. The Dodgers squeezed past the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 with two runs in the eighth inning on a single and two doubles.

The New York Giants cleaned up on the Chicago Cubs 4-1 with three runs in the first inning on Hank Danning's triple and steady, eight-hit hurling by Rookie Bob Carpenter.

Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from the Phillies, 8-3 and 5-1.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng.—The Navy girls, members of the W. R. N. S., the Wrens to their friends, have adopted a ship of their own, and the Admiralty is so pleased with them they have agreed to name it H. M. S. Wren, an escort ship of 1,200 tons. But the Wrens will never sail to sea. Girls of the navy can never go to sea.

Washington's Huskies Again Capture Hudson River Regatta

The broadback Huskies of the University of Washington swept across the finish line in the 44th national intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., for their fourth win in six years. Grimly pursuing the leaders are the California Bears who challenged the Huskies in vain all the way down the four-mile Hudson river course.

Golf Stars Nearing Semi-Final Battles

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, June 26.—Sixteen stars from 11 schools, survivors of the 64 who started match play yesterday, battle today for berths in the semi-finals of the 44th National Intercollegiate Golf championship.

Everyone had an eye on Stanford's great four-man squad, winner of the team title. The quartet of Indians roared through two sets of victories yesterday, and they made up half the top bracket as play started today.

Opposition Scarce
Should they win their third round matches, the coast crew would be the only one left in the upper half of the draw, leaving the four stalwarts to cut each other down through the quarter and semi-final rounds.

All were booked against outside opposition in the third set, with Warren Berl, runner-up in 1939, meeting Marshal Carlson of Toledo, the Ohio conference champ; Ray Brownell clashing with A. C. Williams, Yale star; Dee Replogle competing against Alex Welsh, the Big Ten king from Illinois, and Charles Finger meeting Danny Carmichael, Princeton's basketball captain, baseball pitcher and mashie swinger de luxe.

In Lower Half
Down in the lower half were F. Fixon Brooke, the defending champion from Virginia, who tackles six-foot five-inch William Zylstra of Michigan State, the only dark horse among the 16 survivors; Otto Greiner, Baltimore's fine threat who takes on Richard Wolfely of Illinois, runner-up for the Big Ten laurels; E. K. Gravelly of Yale, who faces the task of upsetting Earl Stewart, Louisiana State's medalist and tourney favorite who is three under par for 68 holes, and Bob Brownell of Duke, the Southern intercollegiate hurdler, who meets Gary Middlecoff.

The survivors of the morning matches were due for another round in the quarter finals this afternoon, both over the 18-hole route. The semi-finals, at 36 holes, are booked Friday, with the championship scheduled Saturday over the same distance.

Baked Alaska
MISHAWAKA, Ind.—This city sweltered in 90-degree heat, second-hottest day of the year, but firemen used blow torches to thaw a frozen city water main. Chemicals escaping from a broken compressor at an ice cream manufacturing plant froze an adjoining five-inch pipe.

CANBERRA, Australia—Rabbits are becoming a great dollar chaser in Australia's national war economy. The United States is taking so many Australian rabbit skins for the manufacture of military felt hats, that Australia is building up a comfortable dollar exchange credit there.

"THE GORGON'S MASK"

by Van Wyck Mason

CHAPTER TWENTY

Reveling in the early-morning fragrance of the palm-shaded hotel patio, Captain North, alone at his table, sat sipping coffee while his eyes wandered over certain black headlines. None of them was reassuring—quite the contrary.

"SENATORS DEMAND WAR," one newspaper proclaimed. "NATIONAL GUARD PREPARES FOR QUICK MOBILIZATION." "PRESIDENT URGES CALM ON NATION." another stated. "SUICIDE OF ANTI-WAR JAP PRIME MINISTER DENIED."

Then on still another front page, "ASSASSINS FIRE AT JAP WAR MINISTER." "AMERICAN FLAG BURNED IN TIENTSIN."

"War fever—all the old, familiar symptoms!" the American agent muttered. He read carefully the usual urgings to calm. The mayor of Honolulu was especially emphatic.

"ALL CITIZENS OF WHATEVER EXTRACTION ARE EARNESTLY REQUESTED TO AVOID DEMONSTRATIONS OF ANY SORT."

Then below it: "TENSION IN CITY AT FEVER HEAT WITH JAP CRUISER AND SUBMARINE SQUADRON EXPECTED TOMORROW. LESS THAN EQUAL NUMBER OF AMERICAN SHIPS TO BE IN HARBOR. DECISION PROTESTED BY PROMINENT CITIZENS."

Turning to a rear page of the last newspaper, he began scanning the financial page. "STEEL, COTTONS, AND ESSENTIAL WAR COMMODITIES REGISTER SHARP RISE. IROQUOIS STEEL REACHES NEW HIGH. HEAVY BUYING FORCES PRICES UP."

All at once the intelligence captain's deeply sunburnt hand paused in turning a page. Somewhere in the back of North's brain a bit of mechanism clicked. . . . Iroquois Steel? . . . Iroquois Steel?

Slowly the newspaper sank flat to the table and North stared with fixed, unseeing eyes. . . . Iroquois Steel? . . . Iroquois Steel?

Baron von Rentner, the German steel master, was also in Hawaii. Coincidence? Hardly. Polk, von Rentner, Stefan and Co., a queer partnership—in what? Two multimillionaires and a Soviet spy! Queer queer company!

Like a dynamo gathering speed, North's brain began to function. Click! Nadia Stefan had Baron von Rentner at her feet. Click! Armand Dunant was her professed admirer, or so Polk had said. Click! Dunant, another steel king. Click!

North turned hurriedly to a list of passengers who had arrived in Honolulu on the S. S. Korea the day before.

"Captain and Mrs. Wallace Clark, U. S. A. M. C.; the Very Reverend Mr. Gale, Bishop of Shanghai; Mr. Reginald Payne? Then North's expressive black brows crept together a little. "Hal! Mr. Armand Dunant," described there as director general of the Franco-Danubian Steel Cartel.

"What a flop-eared jackass I've been not to have tumbled before!" ejaculated North.

Lost in thought, he folded his paper and was about to continue his breakfast when a shadow fell across the tablecloth. He glanced up. It required all his self-control to conceal his amazement at beholding Nadia Stefan standing beside him, looking lovely and demure in a simple dress of printed silk. Fighting down an inexplicable sensation of pleasure, he arose, bowing a little, and met the cool challenge of her large eyes.

"Bonjour, Capt.—Mr. Nevins. You rested well?" There was no hint of sarcasm in her tone.

"Yes, thank you," he said, and trying to appear as unconcerned as she. "Would you care to join me?"

Nadia made no answer beyond a faint smile, as she slid gracefully into the chair opposite him.

"I see, monsieur le Capitaine, that you prefer a good old American breakfast. Eggs, melon, toast—mon Dieu! Quel barbare!"

"You bet," said he cheerfully. "You've breakfasted, I gather?"

Beneath a broad-brimmed hat which set off her pale features, she nodded.

"Mais oui, on chocolate and croissants. There's a delightful old Frenchman who makes them not far from where I—"

"We," corrected North.

"I," she repeated. "Monsieur Josef has his own quarters elsewhere. Our connection is—purely professional."

Gravely North said, "I'm glad of that."

Their eyes met and held; then North sought safety in tearing his gaze away as she said: "But that was not what I came to see you about. I came for two reasons. Please go on eating," she urged when North laid down his fruit spoon.

"I obey," the intelligence captain smiled. "But what are those two reasons?"

"First," explained Nadia Stefan, elevating a slim white finger, "I came to give you a friendly little warning."

"That's warning No. 2, isn't it? Are warnings a specialty of yours?"

"No. I do not generally go to such trouble for—well, an—an—" "Enemy? And what was the other reason?"

"Only that really I wanted to see you again," confessed Nadia Stefan with a simplicity that carried an amazing amount of conviction.

For the first time in longer than he could remember, Hugh North felt himself blushing—blushing because Nadia Stefan wanted to see him again for his own sake. Instantly, however, the watchdog of his brain awoke to howl instant warnings.

"And I," said he, "am very glad to see you again."

"Then that dreadful little Japanese didn't hurt you?" she queried in an undertone. "I was very much afraid."

"Not for long. They knocked me out and," North shrugged, "my loss is his gain."

Nadia settled back in her chair, with her brows joined in an almost pained expression.

"Surely, mon Capitaine, you are scarcely complimentary this morning."

"How so?"

"You didn't really think that litter of papers left on the desk was of any real importance, non?"

As North addressed himself to his lukewarm scrambled eggs, he shrugged a little.

"Qu'en savez-vous? Something you might think unimportant might mean a great deal to me. Anyway, I wish Kanamura and Company hadn't got their yellow claws on them and interrupted my personal plans."

"Did your plans include — me?" She demanded with mock anxiety.

"Indo-China and Angkor and, yes — you."

"You are delightful!" A brief tension dominated Nadia's facile features. "Ah, Dieu, but I grow tired of all this," she sighed closing eyelids wearily. "I only wish we had met anywhere but in Honolulu, and in these times. So much might have been."

North said nothing, being fully occupied in an effort to maintain his own mental balance. Every time those long-lashed eyelids of hers rose, he felt almost panic-stricken.

The U. S. agent kept recalling Polk, von Rentner, and Dunant. . . . also that pitiful corpse there by the float. How frightened the dead girl had looked!

Yes—this was all acting on Nadia's part. After all she was a Soviet agent, and, like him, had her work to do.

with a bird-like quickness; then her hand shot out impulsively and came to rest on his—"for heaven's sake don't keep on. You do not know what you're up against. I—I admire your courage, your resourcefulness—your—" she floundered a little—"your beau-sabreur manner, but I swear to you it is too late to stay that avalanche which is already ready launched. Listen to me."

If ever he had heard a person in earnest, it was now.

"Thus far I have—I still do not understand why—I have spared your life." Trembling a little, her voice went on: "I—I cannot do so longer—someone has come—and besides, duty—ah—"

Her hand tightened over his. "Ah you must believe me. Listen—seven long years I have served first, the Cheka, then the O. G. P. U.—for I believe in Russia's triumphant destiny. But now I am sick of killings, of treachery, of sleepless days and nights—of making love and being made love to, when love is farthest from my wishes."

He listened, automatically steeling himself to sanity. No doubt she had spoken thus to Aristide La Tour, who had died in Moscow in some fetid dungeon. To poor old Jerry Cross, now in a suicide's grave, to Wilson Clark, yet unburied.

"Why," he murmured, "do you tell this to me?"

"Because," — her eyes flashed a moment—"I have given much to Russia, most of my youth; now I wonder if the remainder does not belong to me?"

"That sounds reasonable," North agreed. "Look here," he continued. "Why don't you stop now? Today!"

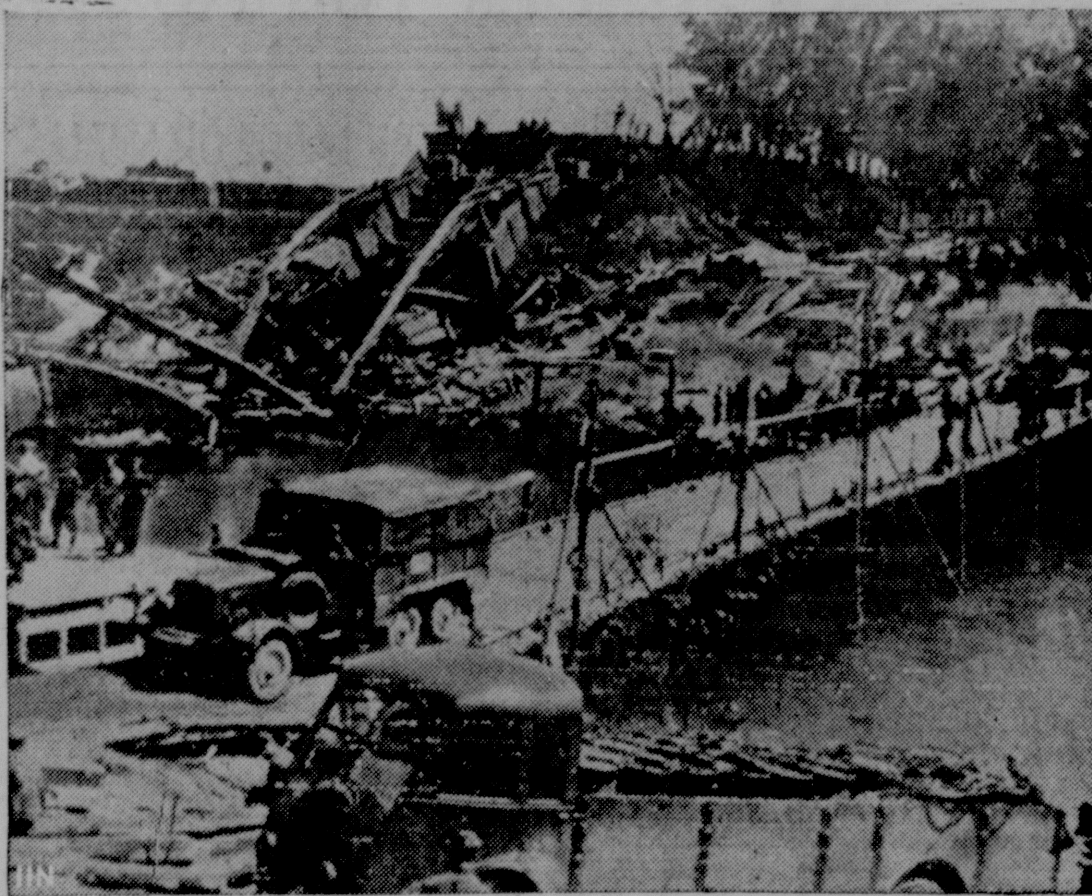

Nadia stiffened a little and replied with a sudden chilliness: "I am not a traitor. Monsieur le Capitaine. I shall do my best. But for you, I am afraid. Yes, I see death very near you—I cannot stand between it and you any longer." She made a small, helpless gesture with her hands. "Please believe that I do not want you to get hurt. And hurt you surely will be, if you persist."

"You are very charming, Made-moiselle Stefan," was all he said, though his heart was hammering like a schoolboy's.

She ignored his compliment and hurried on with these words: "Tonight 'phone me—send for me and I will go anywhere in the world with you!" She raised a quick hand. "I have risked much in talking like this—I make no explanations for what I have said—no apologies—I have simply spoken what is in my mind. You, too, know what it is to live under a perpetual tension; brave as you are, you know what it is to live in fear—"

"I know," he interrupted gravely. "Believe," she whispered when he straightened a little—"believe that I will keep my promise. Call me tonight, then we'll leave Honolulu and abandon this hideous business. We can go away—far away."

Reason warned him, that what she had just suggested was a bribe. Yet all she had said had sounded as if it came from the depths of her soul. All at once he found himself wishing it were possible to cast off his responsibility. He had never met such a fascinating, practical woman. When he married—

Footnote On History

EUREKA, Ill.—William Gerstner tells fellow inmates of the Mennonite home that his father saved the late Kaiser Wilhelm II from drowning.

That was 75 years ago. The elder Gerstner was bodyguard and swimming instructor for young Wilhelm, then a prince. At Stuttgart, when the prince was swimming alone to gain confidence, there was a call for help. The local man's father arrived as he went down the second time.

The reward was an education in architecture.

Wrong Sound Truck

THOMASTON, Conn.—The occasional peeps didn't seem to jibe with the picture being shown in a Thomaston theater. The owner, Robert Schwartz, investigated.

In the sound box of the speaking equipment just behind the screen he discovered a nest with a mother robin and two garrulous baby robins.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 1 1/2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Ton Jon Soon Brought This Man Out Of His Misery

Declares that he suffered from severe headaches. Unable to walk let alone work. He was often blinded by these terrible nervous headaches. Since taking TON JON his nerves have calmed down greatly and he is able to work and is enjoying life to the fullest extent.

CLYDE J. WILSON

Remarkable reports are current regarding the famous Herbal Medicines—TONJON 1-2-3. Grateful users are spreading its fame and many are astonished over the powers which these preparations appear to possess in helping to relieve some of the most obstinate and pitiful cases. It is results that count and it is results which are the foundation of TONJON'S fame.

Here is an example — just one of the many right here in your own vicinity telling what TON JON has done. It is from Mr. Clyde J. Wilson of Bloomington, Ohio, R. R. No. 1, near Steubenville. Mr. Wilson, a Methodist Church member, says:

"For the last 17 years I had been in a very nervous condition which was gradually getting worse all the time. I was so badly constipated that I had to take laxatives regularly in order to get my bowels to move. My head ached both in the front and back and sometimes I would become blinded by severe nervous headaches. This trouble weakened me to where I could not walk at times, let alone work."

"TONJON certainly brought me out of my misery. My nerves have quieted down so greatly that I am now able to work. I am enjoying life to the fullest extent for which TONJON alone made possible."

Thousands of people declare the new TONJON 1-2-3 are a blessing to their health. Now is the time to talk to the TONJON Health Representative at the Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.

Fights for Son

John Haven Emerson, "poor" inventor of Iron Lungs, leaves court in Boston where he testified in suit whereby Mrs. David Garrett Forbes, wealthy socialite, asked custody of their 6-year-old son. The boy was awarded to the father when the Emersons were divorced. Both have since remarried.
